

Astrology birthday chart

Jane Doe, 01 Jan 1981 20:45:00

Sun in zodiac

The Sun generates life as well as producing the light. This planet (also called "Luminary" and "the Star") embodies the center, our ego, core and uniqueness of the individual. The Sun means our personality and how the surrounding world imagines us. What is more, the Sun proclaims an individual's originaive ability and power to struggle with routine problems.

Masculine powers, paternity and other male influences are conducted by the Sun. The Sun also favors children. Its energy is so powerful that it maintains the ascendancy, leadership, tenacity, individuality and spirit. Being influenced by the Star, we find out how to demonstrate ourselves to the world.

The Sun is kinglike, so it keeps and rules the regal authority and the superiors. Luminary also masters our health and wealth. Sun light and beams saturate individuals with strength, inspiration, motivation and power of will. The Sun is the one that regulates the planets and possesses the center in astrological knowledge.

Each sign has approximately a month of the privilege to be visited by the Sun during its annual trip to the 12 signs of the zodiac. The Sun's might is believed to be pure male energy and it guides Leo and the Fifth House.

Capricorn Sun Sign

Capricorn goes after Sagittarius and has the tenth place in the row. All that concerns hard work often is addressed to people born under this sign. They would rather prefer to sit the entire day in office than hanging out with friends in some pub or disco.

They are ambitious and purposeful folk and usually get what they desire. Probably, they are most dedicated to their job than other signs. Very often it is a great problem for such people, as they have unstable relationships. They are very secretive, reveal their feelings and thoughts very unwillingly, and endure with great difficulties, misfortunes and the breaking of relations. But they are great laborers at work. Also, they're careful and pragmatic. There is only a very small chance that they will make a mistake. And no matter what it would require, Capricorns reach their goals.

The sign's symbol is Sea-Goat. As goats like climbing high in the mountains, Capricorn-born human also desires to reach the top of any deal they start. They need prestige, money, and fame. Their motto may sound something like this - success in everything! Sometimes they become egoistic when climbing the tops of the world, but a real leader simply cannot be soft-hearted. So, they are goal-oriented, initiative, effectual and well-organized. They hate undergoing a risk, and would rather think all steadily to get a detailed plan than doing something without safe planning.

Capricorns have a strong character and usually do not accept weak personalities. They need strong people like them. They like to be independent and almost never ask for help or advice. Being ruled by Saturn, these individualities wish to take the upper hand and cannot be underdogs. They are good disciplined and responsible. Success is their second name.

Their element is Earth. Living rather backbreaking activity, this folk rarely undergo wild ideas and do not seek comfort in fantasies. It is better to spare additional hour or two at work than at rest. If the job is not done, they will not start another activity. Sometimes they are greedy but still like to be kind and friendly. But they commonly experience difficulties in building strong relationships when the matter concerns love.

The best qualities of this sign are the willingness to labor hard, reach the goal and succeed wherever it is possible. They are cautious and responsible, and also pleasant to communicate with.

Capricorn and Independency:

These individuals are utterly irrespctive, in as much as they wish to fulfill each task themselves, knowing precisely their possibilities. They don't trust others accomplishing any their deal, as they are convinced - they'll do it better!

Capricorn and Friends:

These folks are outstanding friends, who would always be there by your side in the nick of time. They won't leave you in need, always ready to give a helping hand. And they won't ask you something in return, and they'll do this all freely and eagerly because you are their friend and that's the main point. They are caring and sympathizing companions. They are a kind of mystery, elusive to know what occurs in their heads.

Capricorn and Biz:

These identities are always charged to achieve the greatest heights, especially in business. They are born leaders and are targeted to gain the best results. They are good at organizing their work and the work of the others, having a nice sense of time. They aren't spontaneous and know exactly when and what things should happen, and how to use them to their advantage. They have a developed intellect, and it generates original ideas. They plan each step, so be sure that almost all their investments would enjoy success. They are capable of leading long-termed projects, which would undoubtedly produce the best benefits.

Character:

These individualities might seem to be melancholic and relentless, as they have a rigid self-discipline and liability. They don't undertake any step without prior weighing all pros and cons. Shooting blindly is not about them. For somebody, they may appear boring, but in fact, there is great tension and strength in planning everything detailing. Not many can do this. Often, they are mistaken by people, who think that they are cold. It's not so, because they are simply self-sufficient, irrespective, keeping everything under control. They aren't cold or egoistic. Simply they prefer to do everything in their own way. They can perfectly structure their work and life and would like to help the others in this matter, and many who don't like that. They think that such people just want to control their lives. In fact, they only wish to help with better time management.

Capricorns tend to think that their ways are the right ones and other ways lead to nothing. Consequently, they almost never agree with thoughts of other people.

This is their biggest problem, for they know only one way, though there is a great variety of the development of this or that situation. They ought to realize that there is more than one variant and stop imposing their ways on others.

Capricorn Inside:

One of the explanations why Capricorns like to structure their work is their fear of being unworthy, so they are constantly proving their significance at work. But when they realize that they need to love themselves, without proving something to the others, they would see a novel world, full joy, and splendid opportunities. They desire all kinds of security. This is their main goal, and they require being successful in all beginnings. They get very anxious about their public state and prestige. They need to feel that they are needed, though will never reveal it to somebody. They wear many faces, and for different situations, they put on different masks. But thanks to this, they may never realize who they actually are. That's why they are secretive. They are constantly questioning who they are and what they want. Because of this reason, they reluctantly let someone close. And when they do that, they are afraid of letting these people go. In as much as they have revealed to them their secrets and now they are dear to them, but the next time these people separate from them, they have to restart everything, and this brings much pain. This creates the contradictive inner world of Capricorns.

Capricorn in a Nutshell:

These identities are very flatulent, and they pursue something to make their lives complete and significant. They are very patient and will wait steadily till all the rest go off the distance, and they use the moment to seize their chance. They plan every single step before they make the final shot. All must be perfectly executed and they ought to receive the best of the best. They possess nice intellect and enormous concentration. They like to keep everything under control and take the upper hand. They will properly plan every move without haste. They accept changes, but not too fast, steadily adapting them to their lifestyle. They see life in white and black. There is nothing in between, as it is unknown to them and they fear it. They also must control their romantic relationships to never be defenseless before the other person. They should be under a constant protection in any situation with anyone. But give them the sense of confidence and they will be happy and comfortable.

Dating Capricorn-Women:

In the depth of Capricorn woman's soul, she is very romantic, but she would reveal this only when she meets the right man. That's why she behaves as if she doesn't care. But she actually does! She must be loved.

Such women are for those men who aren't afraid of passing serious tests. They will have to gather all their patience to get closer to such women, as they don't trust people easily. Such women are plush. You have to treat them like real ladies. They adore presents, but not too expensive, just useful and practical. Because of their nature, they would rule your relationships, but don't be afraid, for they won't lead you the wrong way. In as much as they are clever and practical, they know the best way to build and develop the relationship. They stand for long-termed, serious relationship, where loyalty and happiness would always be present.

Dating Capricorn-Men:

The Capricorn-men possess great passion and physical strength, but they are not very emotional. As women of this sign, men also reluctantly let someone in their life, no matter how strong they desire to love. Showing your admiration of them, you would steadily earn their trust, which means everything for them. They are utterly loyal. Under the tough surface hides a very sensitive personality. Try to win their trust and you would be surely impressed how romantic and living these men are. The main keys to their hearts are patience and trust. They are worth waiting, as they have so much to give you. In return, you'll receive stability and faithfulness.

Attract for Capricorn:

The best way to earn their attraction is to make them merry, in as much as they are sensitive and tend to be melancholic. Do not push on them emotionally and keep the required distance. They would eagerly listen to stories about you. When they have full trust in you, they will show you all the riches of their inner world, which is incredibly beautiful. These are reasonable and serious folks, so don't talk about fiddlesticks. They prefer intelligent and important conversations. Giving gifts would also bring some additional bonuses. But not too expensive, as they may think that you want to buy them, not win. When going on a date, pick up something unusual and romantic. And be punctual, as these identities are never late and hate when someone is not punctual. They may think, that you are irresponsible and don't value them, making them waiting for you. Be patient with them. Once you have won them, you'll feel their warmth and dedication. In such way, you may gain a very dependable and charming partner.

Capricorn Erogenous Zones:

Their legs, and particularly knees, are the hottest spots. They like slight tickles of the backs of their knees. They will immediately start laughing, and thus you'll initiate the foreplay. Be sensitive to them, and you'll find great pleasure.

Sex with Capricorn:

Capricorn-born have great amounts of stamina. They have tremendous drive, which would last for the entire night and even longer. They are very physical. They also like convenient and romantic atmosphere. And though they aren't very original in choosing positions, be sure that they are very good at those they have already mastered. Be ready for a hot ride with Capricorns.

Sun in house

The Sun in houses points at the spheres of our life, where the vivid vibrations are supposed to be centered. The Sun can relate to any house and makes the meaning of that house clearer and brighter. It is manifested specifically for each Sun sign. During life, you can always feel the powerful energy provided by the Sun. The aim of the house may be to concentrate and motivate you on important decisions.

Sun produces energy and creates proper living conditions, rather than adapts to them. Considering this, we can manage and change the vector of our lives. You need to understand it's only you who identifies the area of success in life; as soon as you've made your choice, the Sun will help you succeed and will light up the areas in your life you need to pay attention to and act confidently.

We have to be careful and not penetrate deeply into the spheres, emphasized by the particular house of the Sun. We may face obstacles, and just because we are too concerned on this feature, it can damage our ego or hurt our pride. The Sun in the sixth house shows an importance of career, and if it is expressed negatively, a person can dive so deeply into work that all the free time will seem useless and pointless for such a person.

Sun in 5th house

The Sun in the fifth house is a sign of creativity, energy, and wit. This period is favorable for you to show what you are made of. Your creative activity can produce an essential income during this period; writing, music, choreography, art, and performances will be not only pleasurable, but also profitable. During this period, you'll be especially touchy when it comes to appreciation and recognition. It is normal, as it will boost your motivation and productivity. A little bit of boasting is appropriate. Most of the time, you'll be in high spirits, and people around will be magnetized by it. You will feel the desire to take every opportunity in your way, but be careful and avoid gambling and betting. There is a tendency to become more whimsical and infantile in behavior, so maybe you'll need to be careful and ease your temper in some way. Try to think more about people around you and pay more attention to them. You'll be surprised how many things were obscure for you before. This positioning often provides self-confidence and inspiration. For parents, it is time to mind the children, as an important period in interrelationship begins.

Moon in zodiac

The Moon gives us many answers to different questions concerning our interests and instincts. It also shows how we react in different occasions under different circumstances.

Astrological Moon signs are also vital, like the Sun ones, though not all give heed to them. This category of signs is answerable for our inner affection. All concerning our emotional states and unconscious sides of our identity hides in this category. The inner world is the place where we are trying to find convenience, harmony and peace, and things pictured in our memory since our childhood.

These signs are also responsible for our major senses - smell, sight, hearing, and touching. Together, they create the subconscious universe, which influences us and strongly differentiates from the Sun.

All Moon signs are commonly divided into 4 groups - air, fire, earth, and water.

To Air-elements belong - Gemini, Libra and Aquarius

Because these three signs have big concerns with affection, they are similar to the Sun signs. Gemini-identities also have the desire to gain as much novel and uncommon information as possible, concerning different situations, and they wish to acknowledge others about what they've gained. The leading Moon makes them insatiable talkers, who eagerly reveal their feelings. Libras can gratify and gladden. They possess a deep feeling of being recognized. Aquarius-identities possess a firm habit to think the matter over and only afterwards speak to a logical conclusion.

To Fire-elements we refer - Aries, Leo and Sagittarius

Here, these three signs strongly differ from the Sun ones. Aries-individuals are utterly self-confident and sufficient, knowing precisely what they want and what they ought to do. Leos are in a constant search for attention and adornment, and inside, they are very passionate when expressing emotions. Sags are aspiring to all uncommon and novel, desiring to explore more strange corners of the globe. They are also over-emotional.

To Earth-elements belong - Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn

These signs experience varied emotional states. Taurus-identities prefer peace and calmness and hate haste and rapid changes. Virgos have curious intellects, thirsting to know everything about all happenings. Capricorn-identities strive to control affection. They preserve all feelings inside, which turns them into the most complex signs among the rest.

To Water-elements belong - Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces

These three experience great necessity in affection. They adore taking care of others and utterly desire it. All emotional expressions are greatly important for them. They express them freely, but more often, they let them lie secret, so often, they are misunderstood by other identities.

Moon in Scorpio

This sign differs from many others with its seeking of peace and security in emotional intensity, when others look for them in material aspects. They are capable to delve deep into somebody's soul, revealing all secrets. They can easily read you as a map. It is very difficult to hide something from their sharp intellect.

And many seek their advice due to such ability.

They apt to transform, change, and re-organize their lives, giving novel breath. They are emotionally intense. Often, their mood may rapidly change and they live many ups and downs. These folks are self-sufficient and can easily withstand loneliness. And though they may live a stable and peaceful life, they test their strength in some competitions. This is because of their strong-willed character.

They adore facing different challenges. Sometimes, they may go for challenges, even unconsciously. Self-awareness and acceptance might stop such desire for contests and avoid their emotional drama. Still, it is very difficult for them to have a hold of their natural desires.

They live their lives from one extreme to another. There can be no middle ground. In any situation, there are two ways-out - win or lose, and nothing between. Their motto can sound like this - all or nothing.

Under the lead of the Moon, these identities have great fear of being betrayed. Perhaps, partially this explains their good adaption to a lonely way of life. But they would also seek company, somebody they can fully trust. Often, they may test others to figure out whether they can be trusted. It brings a lot of difficulties. Once they know they can trust you, they'll be utterly dedicated and faithful to you.

These identities are emotionally-driven. Notwithstanding, lots of Scorpios are constantly trying to master and keep their affection under control. Besides, they have developed intuition. That's why they perceive motives of the others so often and successfully.

The Moon gives these identities strength. They namely shine with it. Even when they start something new and aren't great experts, they may act as if they are.

Due to their strong will and emotional honesty, they aren't that easily scared. Many try to imitate them, as they are courageous and brave. Their inner "radar" always may prompt them what to do in various situations. It's a very convenient ability, which allows avoiding many problems. That's why they are so self-confident.

Commonly, these identities are intellectually developed. They are also strong in will, honest, and just. They are devoted and truthful companions.

Moon in house

The Moon in the houses is capable of showing in what way each of us searches his/her emotional satisfaction and harmony. Moon rules and directs our feelings and emotions. It can tell us why we act this or that way. All our constant and inconstant emotional states and behavior can be understood through the prism of the Moon's position in our houses. Directly in these occasions, we should seek all answers and explanations to all our emotional ups and downs. Here, we can reveal and learn all secrets of our affection.

Moon in the 3rd House

You are very curious, sociable and softhearted identities. You possess a real talent to imitate behavior and manner to talk to others. But you rather think first than feel. Your affection gets intellectualized. You may both - speak intellectually and emotionally always capable of finding balances between these two abilities. Your ideas and plans are in constant change, and sometimes it happens that you start to adapt the thoughts of others as if they were yours. In fact, you may even not notice that you have done so. But you're not a plagiarist at all. You may experience some difficulties in the formulation of your thoughts and are sensual to the thoughts of other folks. Sometimes, you may be anxious and lack rest, since you require these changes.

Often, you decide to do something because of personal or emotional reasons, since you think it is actually alright or perhaps previously it worked successfully, and you are unwilling to change the matters. Otherwise, you'll be feeling uncomfortable.

Often, intuition and senses may not let you think in a rational way. You adore chatting about all that concerns your affection and thoughts, and due to this reason, others won't answer you in the same way just because you unconsciously interrupt them, concentrating on your own identity. It would be better to avoid doing that. You are very good psychologists and can read the feelings of the others.

Mercury in zodiac

What styles of communication do we choose and why? How do we choose how to react? How do we act, choose, absorb, use, and exchange information? The dislocation of Mercury in the hierarchy of the zodiac signs is capable of answering all these questions. You may be a Cancer, but you could also have Mercury in Capricorn, so you'll react and interact with others in a different way to how one could expect. Mercury refines the Sun sign and clears how we take in and give out the information around us.

Mercury in Capricorn mentality:

Capricorns are known for their structured way of thinking in any question, and consequently, they have great analytical and systematic heads. They are very practical in their way of thinking and don't make up illusions. They don't create fantasies and use everything real and useful. They don't make rush decisions and would think the whole matter through thoroughly before making any move. They are highly intelligent and have a deep and firm concentration. They are especially good at fulfilling long-term tasks, know how to manage their time, and don't lack self-discipline. This makes them irreplaceable workers in any collective, particularly in business and financial matters. They know precisely what information they need to find and how and when to use it for the best results. But due to great and constant tension of making complex decisions and planning difficult strategies, fearing to fail, they may get mentally paralyzed and miss the best moments of their lives. They have a habit to stick to traditional, proven with time methods and refuse all those novelties, which are so uncommon and strange to them.

Mercury in Capricorn communication:

These identities with Mercury always cautiously and slowly choose the words they say. They fear to say something wrong as they give much heed to public opinion. Accordingly, they are mostly silent. They are pretty tactful and are great diplomats. Nevertheless, their reticence and estrangement make people feel uneasy near them, for they think that Capricorns are cool and unsatisfied with what others tell them. They are not very sociably developed and don't undergo social small-talks, as they prefer to discuss firm facts and realities. These folks dislike purposeless chatting. They behave very seriously and want to be accepted by others in that way only. At work, they are very good teachers, but on a personal level, they experience many difficulties. They reluctantly reveal their inner affection and often lack a sense of humor. Still, they are also famous for their bitter sarcasm.

Sometimes they just cannot live without making a sarcastic joke, as well as they cannot live a day without making something really significant. They ought to feel that they are needed.

Mercury in Capricorn strengths:

They are great strategists, capable of fulfilling complex long-term tasks; are good at time management and are self-disciplined; are good at business; are tactful diplomats; are successful teachers.

Mercury in Capricorn weaknesses:

They are too closed up and estranged; are often pessimistic; reluctantly reveal their feelings; are narrow-minded and lack a sense of humor.

Mercury in house

Mercury can clarify the areas of your interest, the way your mind works, your communicative abilities and oratorical skills, the way you perceive and interpret information, and how fast you can learn something.

Look at the House in your birth chart where Mercury is located: it shows the sphere of your interest, the vector of your thoughts for your whole life, and points out the areas where you can express your talents in the most beneficial way.

Mercury in the 5th House

You have a peculiarity of using your charming and confident voice, playing with words as a means of self-expression. You possess a bright and humorous mind, are interesting at conversations, and are a very merry friend. You adore playing games, particularly those that require the use of the intellect. You use the words as a weapon when arguing with somebody, adore cracking jokes and playing funny tricks. You may be good liars and almost nobody would notice that, for you know how people react and what their motives may be and, consequently, know how to trick others. You may promise more than you can do. You prefer communicative and intelligent mutual relations when the matter concerns romance. You like acting before the public and like to surround yourself with large companies who adore your charm and intellect. Sometimes, you may be utterly proud of intellectual capabilities of your children or boast how talented they are. As you are curious about any information, you are a very good teacher, because you have uncommon and original approach to any matter.

Venus in zodiac

The planet Venus is answerable for our love relationships. In ancient times, Venus was the Goddess of Love. It is vital to know the location of this planet when you were born.

Venus shows the qualities of love, romance, sensitivity, attraction, beauty, social and cultural handlings. This planet displays all our actions in personal relations and influences the way we attract love and how we deal in relationships afterwards.

In man's chart, Venus shows the ideal image of a woman for a man. In woman's chart, it shows the way a woman expresses her womanhood. If you don't know your Venus sign, seek for the symbol on the birth chart. The position of this planet according to your sign and house shows the depth of your love and life. It also indicates what people you prefer in friendship and your personal life. It displays your entire love-story, beauty, and your natural originality and creative capabilities.

Venus in Sagittarius

Sagittarius as Personality

People like spending time with you, because you're a very merry and kind-hearted personality. You're a sociably-developed person and adore experiencing everything on your own with other light-hearted people. Afterward, you like to share your new impressions. You like communication and adore travelling.

Probably, you're the most capable among other signs to speak with all kinds of people, regardless of their race, origin, customs, and traditions. You absorb all novel information. You're a great explorer and inspirer.

You in Personal Relations

It's a common thing for you to have great amounts of friends or lovers. Often, they are the same, as you are a loyal friend and seek faithfulness in all kinds of relations. You don't like to be burdened with somebody's problems and usually escape such matters. You are light of heart and adore adventures, but not heavy emotional tension. Your abnormal curiosity concerning everything in this universe promises great diversity in bed. You like challenges and experiments. At any rate, nobody would ever get bored with you in any deal you undertake together.

What Friend You Are

You're friendly and generous. You're always happy to meet your friends wherever it's possible. And you constantly meet new mates. You have a real thirst for new impressions and experience new people in your friendly circle. Some may mistrust your sincerity, as they might not believe one can have so many friends. Still, it is so when it concerns you. You like adventures and scientific nature, as you are such an identity. A merrier and fairer person than you could be hardly found.

You're a real soul of any company, and you generate great amounts of fun and happiness.

Your Originality

You may be original in many things - theatre, music, movie, and so on. Your creativity knows no boundaries. Commonly, you're a good teacher loved by your students for a perfect combination of professional teacher and outstanding humorist.

Your Attraction

Your light and friendly behavior makes others open their heart to you. You are a well-known joker and people want to be your friends to enjoy fun. This also helps you to begin new personal relationships. Often, you may turn a date into real fun. You can quickly get close with anyone, but it doesn't mean you're up for one partner only. Sometimes, people may not notice you avoid deep emotional contact and require freedom. The right partner for you should have his/her own joys in life and be as active as you are. You wish freedom in everything.

How to Win Your Heart

You always seek those who can bring variety into your life and supply you with new experiences and sensations. You have many lovers in different countries, because you adore travelling and get along easily with different identities. You have a habit of idealizing your partners. It is easy to get you on a date, but much harder to have a strong hold upon you. You escape serious relations. Only creative, adventurous, and entertaining personalities have you to themselves.

Notwithstanding, they ought to give plenty of their strength and constantly work.

Venus in house

Venus is wonderful; it is associated with kindness, commitment, positive motives, aesthetics, happiness, music, charisma, material and spiritual values, nature, desire, sexual and personal appeal, concord and understanding. In our body, it accounts for genitourinary system, blood-vascular system, nose, throat, and the way other people are influenced by your charm. Venus rules the positive and attractive vibrations we give and get; it is the reason you like and dislike someone or something.

Look at the House of Venus in your natal chart, and you'll see the area of life where you need to improve communication. Venus is especially active in the second and seventh houses, so try to keep relating areas in balance.

Venus in the 4th House

You are in a constant search of harmony and peace, beauty, and comfort for your home and life. Sometimes, you may be attached to luxury things and wish to have them at home. You also like to decorate your native home. In these decorations, one may see great love you feel for this place. You are very domestic. But it also shows how highly you value love itself. You are sentimental, romantic, and sympathetic. You don't reveal your feelings quickly and eagerly, but once you do it, you'll love strongly and for a long time. You'll give your heart into the hands of the beloved without thinking. And often, you suffer because of such quick and strong attachment to somebody. Commonly, you imitate your parents' marriage in all your relations, wishing to repeat it. You stick to the past, which doesn't allow you to receive happiness in the future.

Mars in zodiac

In the zodiac system, Mars means "action." This planet is also known under the name the "Red Planet." Due to its natural color, it is supposed to be fiery. And within the signs, it means energy, passion, resolution, drive, and action. This planet gives us commands to move on, rise, and do something. All our actions are connected with Mars. This red globe is all about power and confidence and expression of our individuality.

All our ambitions and thirst for challenges come from Mars. It doesn't matter where are you and what you're doing, all encouragements for accepting challenges originate from this planet and tell us to struggle and do our best. It also includes aggression, braveness, and honor. Mars was the God of War and dignity and fearlessness on the battlefield are honored too, but also in everyday life, they are valued.

It is vital to remember that Mars has two sides - constructive and destructive. Our might can be used for different purposes. We can be violent and furious, or we may choose the road of good deeds and use our might for them. The planet sustains our stamina, ambitions, and life-aims.

This planet rules all our sexuality and sexual drive, commands weapons, accidents, and surgery (the last two demonstrate the two-sided nature of Mars). Mars's energy can be used for great deeds if we know how to put it to use correctly.

The Red Planet completes its orbit through all signs within two years. It possesses man's power and rules Aries and Scorpios, and their Houses - 1st and 8th.

Mars in Aquarius

With Mars, Aquarius aren't that easy to understand, and they like this, because they adore surprising others. They don't prefer traditional things and stand for novelties and uncommonness. They are creative and unique.

These identities are irrespctive and have much pride of that fact. They can nicely defend themselves. They are open-minded and like to develop things, and at times, they are very hard-nosed. It would be very difficult to change their mind and their direction.

These individuals have inherited great ambitions and heaps of energy from the Red Planet, particularly for mental and intellectual tasks. Sometimes, they may act scattered, but they would accomplish their task. You may also see them behaving mad, but it would be a norm for them. They know how to reach their wishes.

Aquarius-identities possess a strong will and gladly show that to others. To reach their goals, they may show a very original way of thinking. They may be secret dominators in relations, and their partner may not even suspect that.

These folks don't like to have a hold upon somebody and suggest them just to be themselves. They honor freedom and individuality of everyone. They require their own space. These identities aren't sentimental, though they are sensual. At times, they may be detached, even in intimate relations. They tend to be good leaders, for they are initiative, active, and well-organized. They are great performers and know how to interact with people. Those who follow them should obey them.

As they like everything new, they seek novelties and unusual experiences in bed. They may change their likings from day to day. One thing for too long is boring for them. They welcome experiments thanks to their outstanding imagination. They ought to try all that is possible at least once in their life. They require stimulation for their mind to produce novel experiments. Until they are interested in their partner, they would be utterly loyal. Often, they may take risk without heeding the consequences. They appreciate sex over the phone or per Skype, as it develops their imagination. They adore originality and create variety in everything.

Mars in house

The House occupied by Mars in your native chart shows how you'll use your energy. The sign of Mars for each House reveals to us how we will use this energy as a positive or negative expression.

Mars in 6th House

Mars in the sixth House provides you with outstanding amounts of energy, which you direct in all possible ways at work and help for others. Energy turns you into a tireless dynamo machine. You may have confrontation and grow tired with people who don't possess such a capacity of energy. You like serving other people and are a good and dependable helper. You also tend to have more serious illnesses than other identities, and you often get into more accidents as well. These happenings may be explained by your impatience and constant rush.

Jupiter in zodiac

Jupiter is answerable for our thinking. It is a protector of imaginative mind and rules higher learning and grants us ideas of exploring for both worlds - intellectual and spiritual. Jupiter helps us in forming our ideology and in building our main principles. In the spiritual world, this planet commands religion and philosophy. The planet makes us want to find answers to all questions, and to do that, we might even travel around the globe for a long time; consequently, Jupiter rules travelling for long distances. Jupiter teaches us to determine our ethical and moral significances. It also provides us with an optimistic outlook.

Spare time is another of Jupiter's pastimes. Many sporting events and competitions, games, or a simple walk in the park with family or friends and with pets (this planet adores animals) are under command of this planet. And this planet forebodes great wealth and riches, material and everything of the kind. It's a nice friend in the heavens!

The full circle of the zodiac is long - 12 years. This means Jupiter visits each sign equally a year. It possesses man power and rules Sagittarius and Pisces and their Houses - the 9th and 12th.

Does this planet promise luck?

While orbiting, this planet grants good fortune to your House and your birth chart. For instance, when transiting Jupiter joins your native Jupiter, you have nice chances of earning money, finding a new prosperous job, a promotion and so on. As with other astrological signs, luck may come and go. It would be wise to catch what you have at the moment and wait for better opportunities, which may never come. So, take what you have and develop it.

Jupiter in Libra

The greatest promotion of luck for Libras with Jupiter are cases when acting fairly, treating everyone equally. In their nature lies in graciousness, and they possess talents of contributing, collaborating, and intermediating, which bring great dividends. They eagerly learn novel things and have adventurous intellects. These identities are candid and open-minded. Because of those facts, they usually slightly change their opinion by the arguments of others. They also have great ability of seeing any problem from all sides.

They are most productive when cooperating with somebody. These folks prefer aesthetical pleasure, and usually, they opt for professions of designers and others concerning fashion. They also enjoy success in entertaining, writing, and public connections.

With Jupiter, these folks become idealistic and are engaged by those who like to share their opinions. Work with other people maintains their chances for fortune. They are famous diplomats and are quite compromising. They honor justice and can be convincing.

Jupiter gives them much love to people, which promotes good fortune. Their developed diplomacy allows them to interact easily with other folks and perfectly solve difficulties. If they are self-confident, their luck sufficiently grows, which lets them not take personally the opinions of others.

They live respectable lives, and Libras within Jupiter are original and a positively influence upon society. In such case, they lead everything to harmony.

The negative sides of Libras are their possible enormous ego that leads too greed and snobbism. They may be overly optimistic and stooping to others. If they control their ego, they are commonly merry and open-hearted. They adore exploring novel possibilities.

Jupiter in house

The dislocation of Jupiter by House in the native chart (the one occupied by this planet in the birth chart) shows where we express our abilities to be generous and tolerant. It determines where we focus on enhancing our lives and what we believe in and whom we trust. Jupiter within Houses shows the ways we dilative our identity and life experience.

Jupiter in the Second House

You're enormously resourceful. You have good fortune in getting fine income, gifts, and personal possessions. You know how to use all five senses to live this life in full. You may be deeply involved in them. You are self-sufficient, and you know what you're capable of, and this helps you to gain success.

Saturn in zodiac

Saturn reveals how to act in places where the biggest fears dwell, or how we should remake our lives at the very fundament.

This planet explains how to initiate frontiers and employ ourselves.

Saturn may put us under great test when all seems to fall apart. Notwithstanding, it also acts as a real anchor that ensures stable life.

Signs within Saturn help us to grow up. The planet takes a long time actually before it would return to its initial place when you were born. Its full cycle requires 30 years! Try to remember the difference of people whom you know now and people you know 30 years ago. It's great, isn't it? Probably, you also have more than 30 years behind you. It returns when we nearly meet the crisis of middle age. These are tough times for anyone, and depending on our choices we would live peaceful and joyful life, or we may meet the next stage of our life in depression.

This planet and things it involves has connections with aging, mortality and the best usage of time we have. Under the leadership of Saturn, we ought to turn all we have into an advantage. This planet encourages us to live life in full and to accomplish everything it brings to enjoy it entirely with maximum pleasure. It promotes the creation of well-planned life, which turns all our dreams into reality.

Saturn in Libra

Saturn makes all Libras uttermost serious when the matter concerns personal relations. You may long avoid marriage, but your relationships are commonly enduring. You get attracted by preceptors and often choose older and wiser second parts. Your greatest and important experience comes from cooperation with somebody. In such cases, you show the best of you. Pairing is your most beneficial opportunity.

Social justice is of great importance for you, and in order to fulfill it correctly, you commonly become a lawyer or politician. When finding the fitting activity, you become mentally disciplined. You prefer professions that require social involvement, or you choose those that have a connection to fashion. You labor hard just to bring harmony and beauty in our life.

You cannot withstand situations when something isn't balanced. Through Saturn, your perception of chaos and ugliness only emphasizes, and you grow anxious and more fearful. In your continuous search for the right in the wrong and for the pursuit of equilibration, you get frustrated by people who don't realize the "great deal." In such times it may seem to you that you're the only capable for control yourself. You steam the pressure out when you cultivate personal tranquility and equilibrium inside.

Saturn in house

The disposition of planet Saturn in your birth chart displays the space of life taken by you with great seriousness. These spaces may seem to be a burden to you. You will feel delays and frustrations of the happenings of your House, and you'll master lessons of tough times. In this House under Saturn, you learn responsibility. Each difficulty that takes place in this House teaches you how to overcome any problem and get better after every test. On one side, you may feel lowered self-confidence and dignity, for you may think that others have got easier lives. On another side, you get targeted on gaining success regardless of whatever it would cost, all occurrences in the House (even if it takes the entire lifetime).

Saturn in 2nd House

Saturn in the 2nd House makes you pragmatic and accountable in all your doings, particularly with costs and possessions. This location promises money, notwithstanding, you would have to work hard to earn your living. At times, your labor for income is so hard that you can't even enjoy the things bought with it. You must think whether you actually need such big sums, in as much as commonly lesser sums would be enough for your needs. Penury is also possible for this House, for you don't know the actual value of money and you waste it slightly and quickly. You are possessive with your material belongings, and this creates trouble of sharing them with others, for you don't wish to do that. Too many possessions bring more harm than good. Probably, there was too great stressing on material values. You ought to reconsider this moment. Respect of possessiveness regarding other people ought to be changed too. It is common to feel rejected and unloved by this position. You ought to love yourself and afterward you'd be capable of loving other people.

Uranus in zodiac

The planet Uranus is a master of all unexpected things and happenings. Future and novel technologies, all kinds of progress obey this planet. Into this list goes all that is already invented and what is still in our imagination, getting prepared to be born. It is also the father of electricity.

All innovations, unpredictable, gumptious and imagined experimental things obey Uranus as well, together with originality and scientific genius. With this planet job breaks all established rules and structures, inducing novel and unexpected changes. Uranus awakens our inner powers and desires, and its ways are strange but intriguing.

This planet may make out of us rebellious, irrespectful and quite shocking personalities. It likes to change all conventional things and make everything unique and very unusual. It is answerable for our creativity.

Uranus gives fast results, which get mixed with exact facts and intuition in order to reveal and find all secrets of the universe. Uranus is an intellectual planet, is very objective and clever, and unemotional. Identities with the powerful influence of this planet in their birth charts are real pacemakers and great winners with great fortune.

This planet has ascendancy of social changes, regulates the fellowship of the entire humanity and environmental concerns, and provides us with a strong will. Uranus rules Aquarius-identities. In the bargain, it rules astrology.

Uranus remains in each sign for 7 years, and consequently, it needs 84 years to accomplish the full cycle.

Uranus in Scorpio

These identities have received through Uranus great force and determination. They are capable of maneuvering around almost all obstacles when they hit the road that heads to their aims. These folks are insistent, harsh, cagey and detail-oriented. Their heads are very creative and aren't that bad at mechanics.

With this planet, they are inclined to accidents, which can be mournful. This is the location where they meet sex and death. They can strongly concentrate and focus on the things they need. Their spirit is high and mighty, and they are very decisive. Their huge reserves of energy may lead them to the greatest heights. Often, they don't use orthodox methods when they wish to achieve something.

The greatest opponents for Scorpios are those who adhere to traditions. They are famous rebels, very explicit and hard-nosed. They are self-confident, brave, secretive and aggressive with other folks. They are commonly far-sighted and resourceful. They are capable of fulfilling many things through both material and intellectual worlds.

In relationships, they are fickle or irrepressible. At times, simple, friendly relations may turn into a great passion, and they would not even know the reason. And there is another side of the coin, when passionate relations may abruptly end up. They are deep-minded and would express their thoughts in all possible ways.

They are commonly good as surgeons and as other kinds of healers. They would delve deep to figure out the main reason of pain and ailment.

Through Uranus, they may become jealous and possessive. Envy also can be enlisted. They tend to avoid personal growth, which is a great mistake. Scorpios are quite merciful to those who are good to them. They ought to keep their affection under control and take any misfortune that may happen easily. Peace is what they actually need.

Uranus in house

The House where settled Uranus displays where you will receive unexpected and usual alterations and challenges. In this place, you'll have the greatest changes in your entire life with a goal of illumination. Uranus engages uncommon and sudden happenings. All sudden alterations happen very rapidly and may go as they have come, and sometimes you wouldn't be able to understand what actually has happened (unlike Pluto, the planet that drags you deeper into the abyss long after you have been already destroyed). Frequently, the dealings of this House may shock you and bring stress. You ought to seek ways and methods to turn this all into positive outcomes. This House reveals the kind of activity that is marked with love and capabilities for individual activities and freedom. You'll be utterly unique thanks to the dealings of this House (and House led by this planet).

Uranus in 4th House

With Uranus in the House #4, you may receive unsolved things at home and in the family. Such things happen all of a sudden and destroy harmony. You may inherit eccentric and uncommon things (of spiritual origin) from your family. You are commonly restless with this position, which can be explained by constant desire to move. You're over-sensual, and your relations with parents and personal ones are of great essentiality for you and may bring you good or bad feelings. This position promises a frequent change of the scenery. You wish to stay away from any complications. At times, you act uncommonly and may not give a heed on how others see you and what is their opinion concerning you. You have the predisposition for learning astrology or metaphysics.

Neptune in zodiac

The planet Neptune requires 146 years to accomplish the travel in the zodiac hierarchy, and it lasts about 14 years in each sign. This planet impacts the way of life of everybody born in the period of these 14 years and is determined as "generational" influence. It is worth adding that its essentiality and noticeability would be understood and valued on occasion this is the personal, or ruling planet of the sign, or it has great influence for a personal planet and definite point in the birth chart. However, the placement of the House for Neptune gets more personal.

This is the connecting point for mysteries, and this planet steadily leads every generation to its destination point.

Neptune doesn't stop on common five senses. It has all the signs for the sixth sense, which is indicated by extraordinary sensing at labor. All kinds of illusions, dreams and fantasies take vital part here.

Neptune is the planet for generations and needs 14 years for each sign. It's intriguing and helpful to revise all effects that have been initiated by this planet. One of the most outstanding examples is Neptune in Scorpio in the 60s. In this decade, there were lots of experiments with drugs, music that afterwards was known as trance, and great attention was given to the occult.

Neptune In Sagittarius

You enhance knowledge and philosophy freely and tolerably. You adore debating. You like to clear the value of knowledge till the point when it turns into something unknown and mysterious for you. You have a habit of free believing in many things without thoroughly thinking them over. You're utterly sensual to the dealings that concern freedom, particularly in other countries. You are a tolerant person, but you often miss definite details as you're flying in the realm of your desires for a better world. Anyhow, when concentrating, you'll be capable to cope with all difficulties.

Neptune in house

The dislocation of the planet Neptune determines the aspects of life where you live through disappointment, or at least embarrassment. This is the point where you're mostly predisposed to being cheated, where you hope for the dreams that never come true. Your respect to this House is vague and irresolute. Notwithstanding, you commonly find your way out of situations that concern this House. There are positive aspects to Neptune's House. Here you find inspiration, experience for all mystical and spiritual insight. You are capable of making your dreams visible and real. Of course, at this point you ought to act carefully, for you may deceive yourself by expectations that aren't real. Your wishes may be too greedy.

Neptune in 4th House

Thanks to Neptune of the 4th House, you may feel stress due to inner instability and instability. You tend to experience fears that you can hardly explain, but they take place. You're all about home and continuously idealize it, but usually it's not so perfect as you created it inside of your head. You can be strongly tied to your parents. You commonly desire to live near the sea. You have great difficulty when you start memorizing the past. This doesn't let you have a happy future. You ought to remember that activities with this planet aren't as they may seem. You have to come back to reality and deal with it at home and family. This is far more essential than dreaming.

Pluto in zodiac

In the birth chart, the planet Pluto indicates all shadowed aspects of our lives and shows all manifestations of dark energies. We're afraid of opening all powers, in as much as their nature is destructive. We ought to be very watchful with all Pluto indications.

Pluto displays many of our worst and dark aspects. Such things as obsession, jealousy, compulsion and things of that kind are headed by this planet.

Oftentimes, we react too aggressively and behave negatively because of it.

We commonly try to escape those negative manifestations, nevertheless, it's very difficult to escape Pluto and it may change us forever because of its burning and intensive nature. It doesn't forgive mistakes and weaknesses. Nevertheless, there is another side to Pluto. If we don't fear revealing all our inner powers, we can achieve a lot through the potential of this small, but fierce planet.

With Pluto in us, we experience menace to our ego's individuality. This occurs when there is a destructive loss, which doesn't allow us to understand how life must be. In many of those losses, we may learn how to stand firmly on our feet and face whatever comes. "What doesn't kill us makes us stronger" says this planet. Pluto rejects all that is not to its liking, and we ought to be brave and push hard to overcome all difficulties it sends to us.

Pluto in Libra

1971-1984 (Generation X)

These identities through Pluto act inveterately. They desire to reveal all secrets of the universe, but they may act before they think the whole matter thoroughly through. They require control in everything. They work hard in order to make their relationships perfect. These identities wish to change themselves and others. One part of them acts traditionally and the others wish to act unusually in their relations.

These folks adore art in all its creative forms, especially those arts that leave the deepest impression upon the viewers. Libras stand for "fair play" and justice, and frequently work in courts to make the law system more equal. They are great diplomats and may solve the most difficult conflicts, but they may get angry when something is unfair. At any rate, they desire to create harmony in everything. They are capable of undergoing very complex cases and make them stable and bring peace.

Libras can find the best compromises that would suit each side. They may create a happy medium on almost all occasions. The greatest horror and the hardest strike for them are the cases when one side would surely lose and they aren't capable of equaling the entire matter.

Pluto in house

The dislocation of Pluto in all Houses reveals where identities look for the truth and deep meaning and understanding. In this matter, life is connected with all sorts of changes, struggles, and control. Topical themes in this aspect are fear of deprivation and treachery, obsession and addiction, self-defense and something of the kind. We may undertake the road that heads to the House where Pluto dwells.

Pluto in 3rd House

You frequently reject all truths you may hear or read about. Your analytical brain always seeks for the hidden meaning in any dealing. You act extraordinarily when you're expressing yourself and are very convincing in such occasions. You convince others with your strong manner in both written and spoken ways of communication. Commonly, you depend on your instincts and observations more often than through asking questions. You prefer efforts made on your own rather than the help of other people. You're totally afraid of losing yourself through self- expressions and would choose words cautiously so that nobody can learn much about you.

Transits

Jane Doe, 26 Oct 2023 13:52:25

Jupiter (Retrograde)

Jupiter Transits the Third House

Transiting Jupiter in harmonic aspect to Sun

Success and luck will follow you, as well as good mood and humor.

Jupiter trine Sun

30 May 2023 08:04 - 13 Apr 2024 04:44

A lot of new possibilities are open during this transit. You shouldn't waste that chance, be sure and confident in yourself and your choices. It is the time when you need to think about yourself, and about your joy from life. You need to let yourself more, to increase love and respect to yourself. This aspect provides shining from the inside that everyone can see. Within this period, you can make investments (especially in yourself) and plans for future. Don't hesitate to express yourself.

Transiting Jupiter in harmonic aspect to Mercury

You will experience success in public-related activities from advertising to giving speeches.

Jupiter trine Mercury

21 Jun 2023 07:16 - 01 Apr 2024 18:04

This transit can bring a lot of new things in your life, if you want it, of course. You can achieve your goals during this period, because Jupiter favors your communicability and you seem positive to people around you. It is the most profitable time for you to develop your talents and promote yourself.

Mars

All transits of Mars, or the Red Planet, to other planets and native charts normally have a fairly short impact, and are about 2-3 days. This planet is targeted at activating and energizing all vital points of the nearest planets.

Mars Transits the Ninth House

This period would support you with courage and incredible enthusiasm. There is great desire and search for novel experience through adventures. Your energy wishes to be let out. There is great concentration in you, and you would like to widen your field of interests through different activities, for instance, studies and travelling. Negative aspects may come through your stubbornness or too fiery behavior and reaction to opinions contrary to yours.

Transiting Mars in harmonic aspect to Mercury

During this period, your plans have a great chance to become real, so if you have business ideas you've been keeping in mind for a long time, it is just the right moment to implement them.

Mars sextile Mercury

23 Oct 2023 01:48 - 06 Nov 2023 13:17

This is a great time for prosperity in all directions. You start acting and thinking faster, your communication with other people will run more easily and there will be great success in different projects. Each deal will be undertaken by you with tremendous enthusiasm. Your energy levels will live through great upheaval and will overcome any difficulty. You're in constant movement and wish to complete all your desires and ideas.

Transiting Mars in harmonic aspect to Sun

This time is associated with energy, activities, business, enthusiasm, and ambition. You can manage your work in a more profitable way. The chance of success in negotiations is high.

Mars sextile Sun

20 Oct 2023 13:08 - 06 Nov 2023 05:26

You will undergo different things operating with your instincts. It's time to be brave and self-confident in the things you are going to do. The energy will come out of you like a great storm. Your spirits heighten greatly. This is a very favorable time for undertaking some competition in sports and business, inasmuch as you have tremendous chances of enjoying success.

Mercury

Mercury's influence is fast and lasts usually one day. Through this period, you can become more practical and oriented on action, rather than on thoughts.

Mercury Transits the Ninth House

You are on the philosophical wave now and you tend to contemplate and observe. You will rethink and reevaluate your fundamental knowledge and things you believed to be sacred before. The outlook broadening is important for you now.

You tend to see things in general and more objectively. You may find a person who is distant from you geographically but close mentally. You have a lot to think about, but you are a bit careless. Meetings, promises, tasks may be ignored as your mind is somewhere in abstract dimension. It happens to everyone, it is just an intermediate phase.

Transiting Mercury in harmonic aspect to Sun

Feeling the power and wish to work and evolve in skills and knowledge. It is a time for profitable decisions and contracts, for increased inquisitiveness and better result from work. Short trips are possible.

Mercury sextile Sun

25 Oct 2023 14:55 - 01 Nov 2023 19:51

This day, you will be especially inspired, and the things you need to do will seem easier. You are courageous and sure of yourself through this time. It is a period for you to show your maturity and power to other people, so everyone treats you seriously.

Moon

Moon Transits the Second House

Transiting Moon in adverse aspect to Sun

Some troubles in your love life can occur. Instant mood swings. Pay attention to your health.

Moon square Sun

26 Oct 2023 09:17 - 27 Oct 2023 15:00

There may appear some challenges and restrictions. However, you will find the required support to deal with all the difficulties. There will be impediments, but their duration will be short. Avoid frustrating situations.

Transiting Moon in adverse aspect to Jupiter

During this period, you may face some problems with other people and in relationships. Relax and try to be in control of your life and avoid unneeded purchases.

Moon opposition Jupiter

26 Oct 2023 05:59 - 27 Oct 2023 11:41

Under the condition, you wish to make serious decisions about the improvement of your life, but you should delay them. You may fail to make the right choice.

There may be a great confrontation at work. This is a time when you should better take a break and wait until better times come.

Transiting Moon in harmonic aspect to Mars

It is a time when you are more emotional and your feelings are intensified. You know for sure what you want and how to achieve it.

Moon sextile Mars

25 Oct 2023 22:44 - 26 Oct 2023 16:50

Other people will highly value you thanks to your abilities to settle things down and resolve problems in a quick and effective manner. Other people understand your inner feelings.

Transiting Moon in adverse aspect to Saturn

Period of silence and calmness. It is a time to face your uncertainty and to beat it. Avoid estrangement and don't be afraid to make decisions.

Moon opposition Saturn

26 Oct 2023 08:23 - 27 Oct 2023 09:07

This is a period when you may refuse your liabilities and will escape social activity. In addition, due to multiple external circumstances, you may forget about your friends and get busy with business. Under such conditions, other people will leave you and you will be alone.

Neptune (Retrograde)

Neptune Transits the First House

Transiting Neptune in harmonic aspect to Moon

You will feel especially touchy, and it is time to make your wishes real. If you want to change the scenery - it is a time to do so. There is a high probability to find your soul mate.

Neptune trine Moon

10 Jan 2020 01:03 - 21 May 2024 07:35

Your imagination promises you great perspectives with which you will be capable of making your occupation livelier and surrounding yourself with beautiful things. You may think that your friends are ideal, particularly those who are younger. They will give much good in return.

This period greatly sustains your sensitivity to everything that surrounds you. At times it may be taken as mystic. You will perfectly feel the inner developments of other identities and experience a very strong wish to help them. Your behavior may appear strange even to yourself.

Things of great beauty may strongly attract you. For instance, you may be under strong influence of music or arts, which will maintain your inner feelings. Get familiar with different methods of relaxation and finding balance and peace in every sphere of life. Intuition and other psychic things will greatly support you and bring many pleasant benefits.

Positive Potentials:

Your sensitivity and openness will be enhanced. You will be guided by spiritual realities. You will be connected with all creations that surround you. You will learn how to forgive and great understanding will emerge in your personal life. You'll be closer to your family. You will greatly develop and improve your artistic talents and your imagination will have no boundaries. This is a very fruitful period for your personal growth.

Negative Potential:

You may act too idealistically and lack practicability. If you are already experiencing this, all actions will only strengthen.

Remedies and Suggestions:

Remember all your dreams, hopes, and fantasies. No matter how crazy and weird they be, try to reach them whatever it may cost you. Your creativity is at the peak and you can bring many original projects to life.

Though your wishes may seem childish, try to fulfill them. Write a diary of an original future for yourself. Make all your emotions alive and start acting. Be generous, kind, and merry. Find harmony and beauty in all doings.

Transiting Neptune in adverse aspect to Neptune

Conjunction is impossible. You will experience major changes in all spheres of your life.

Neptune square Neptune

29 Feb 2020 07:07 - 05 Apr 2024 19:51

Be watchful while this very period runs on. You may be deceived by your own dreams, ideals and hopes. You will face multiple challenges and stressful situations. Find the connection to the real world.

Transiting Neptune in harmonic aspect to Uranus

It is a challenging period for your intelligence, but as a result, you will find out a lot of things that can change the flow of your life. It is almost a turning point in your life.

Neptune trine Uranus

27 Jan 2023 05:24 - 07 May 2026 12:35

There will be a plain comprehension of your own wishes and hopes. You will be interested in the matters of a spiritual world. If devoting more time to your psychological purposes, you can find some profits and improve your lifestyle.

Pluto

Pluto is one of the slowest planets for transits. It is slow, and the level of its influence may be admitted gradually. The full circle of Pluto is 248 years. Pluto transits are connected with so-called resurrection. But to let this resurrection happen, something should "die", be reborn, and change. It is a time of slow changes. There will be a moment after a long time when you finally realize the influence of Pluto. Pluto's aim is to underline the spheres in your life that should be reconsidered.

During this transit, you may feel out of place and have temptations to go to the "dark side" - excessive use of alcohol, drugs, and criminal behavior may occur. So, control yourself.

Pluto opens our eyes and helps us realize the problems and opportunities we have. It is a nice period for truth-seeking. The truth here means the things we hide from ourselves, things we don't want to confide in. Sometimes, the realization may be harmful, but through acceptance, we usually get rid of tension, and everything becomes easier. Pluto gives us an opportunity to reevaluate ourselves and our place in this world. It is a metaphorical renewal, a new beginning. Everything that didn't suit our preferences or was a reason for our disappointment will experience changes. It is favorable for you. If nostalgia or problems from the past don't let you live freely, it is a time when you can finally let it go. Everything pulling us back is now under revision.

Any changes bring fear of the unknown, especially during the Pluto transit. As you understand, fighting with inner demons is hard and unpleasant. Pluto will make all the fears surface, your dark motives, thoughts, and things from the past, so get ready to analyze them all. Don't try to avoid this process; instead, be in control of your mind, accept everything that comes back, and reevaluate your life, your previous decisions, and prepare for new living. During this period, we probably can meet people that will make our world go around. The energy of Pluto is utilized this way. Don't let these people manipulate and lead you down the wrong road. If it happens over and over again, be attentive to yourself. Maybe there's something in you that is appealing for such people. Be attentive to yourself.

Pluto is believed to be a bad time in our life; deaths and disappointments are often, and it seems like all the disasters are waiting to strike at one moment during this transit. However, this period aims to change you, to make you see the world from another perspective, to see yourself deeply, and to understand what YOU really want from this life. During this period, new beginnings are also often, the births of the children, new relationships, business startups. These things give us hope and show there's sun after the rain. The strategy of Pluto is to make you face your fears, doubt your beliefs, and rethink everything, and as a result, make you change your old beliefs that prevented you from happy living.

Pluto Transits the Twelfth House

It is quite a hard time that every one of us goes through in life. We can call it a mistakes correction time. All problems from the past that were unresolved or unfinished will surface and remind of themselves. You have to face them. Get ready for it. If you avoid these problems, they won't go away, and will get worse. Be especially attentive to your company, as you are possibly surrounded by foes, and they are not obvious - you may provoke them with your bold behavior or fast success. You just need to be aware of the problems you may encounter during Pluto's transition through the twelfth house in order to be ready.

Transiting Pluto in adverse aspect to Pluto

It is rare due to the slow speed of PL, so there is no information about it.

Pluto square Pluto

20 Jul 2023 06:49 - 25 Dec 2023 12:05

This is the high time to reveal all of your inner happenings. Don't be shy and show the full potential of your inside powers. Emotions will step in front and you will easily manage them. You can slightly accept changes. Allow things to go as they wish to.

Transiting Pluto in harmonic aspect to Moon

You will be filled with emotions and striving to reach your aim.

Pluto sextile Moon

20 Aug 2023 06:39 - 29 Nov 2023 00:21

The relationships through this period will become deeper, and partners will get an advanced level of understanding. Family relations will also improve. Everything that is connected with deeper analysis and that needs some emotional involvement will become better, and both sides will get a profound understanding of each other.

Transiting Pluto in harmonic aspect to Uranus

It is a new phase of your life. If you want a new house, it is the best moment to make it real.

Pluto sextile Uranus

08 Dec 2020 03:14 - 26 Mar 2025 10:44

The time has come to forget about your routine duties, which kill any joy in life and undertake serious measures. You should hit the unknown roads, which can provide you with novel impressions. Do not be afraid of trying new and weird things. The final outcomes will pleasantly impress you.

Saturn (Retrograde)

Saturn Transits the First House

Transiting Saturn in adverse aspect to Uranus

Your past will be remembered, and some financial and emotional losses are possible. It can lead to your isolation and disappointment, so it is better to check now if everything is okay before this period starts.

Saturn square Uranus

01 Sep 2023 01:03 - 03 Jan 2024 06:02

At times, you experience problems with self-control. You are in a twisted position between common activities and crazy novelties. There are problems between liabilities and the organization of your life. This is a complicated issue. You escape any kind of change and hate being spontaneous. You are busy with your routine habits and are not able to break out of them. When you undergo novelties, you are not cautious enough, which induces complications for your future. Think through all your actions properly.

Uranus (Retrograde)

Uranus Transits the Third House

Transiting Uranus in adverse aspect to Moon

Unexpected mood swings, uncertainty, and anxiety follow this period. However, try to be in control of your emotions and do not indulge yourself, and this period will pass without intervention. Also, it is better to avoid surgeries.

Uranus opposition Moon

26 Feb 2023 14:41 - 18 Jul 2025 06:38

You'll have a great need for expressing all of your inner happenings. You'll try novel things you've never tried before but always wished to try. Because of fear or some other reasons, you have been suppressing these desires, but now the time has come to reveal the real you. You will be fearless, self-confident, and open for whatever may happen. Your ways may be weird enough to strongly surprise, but positively impress, other folks. There is great magnetism in you. Your creativeness would change your life into something special, intriguing, and unique. You have to keep an eye upon the directions your energies go. Otherwise, they may choose destructive paths. You should just be yourself, and you will be fine. Undertake whatever your heart desires and be free for novel experiences.

Venus

All transits of the planet Venus to other planets and to the native charts are pretty short, and their impacts last about a day.

Venus Transits the Seventh House

You give much heed to your partner. Adulation may greatly help you, when using it correctly. You would like to remain one on one, rather than labor in large groups.

You need to balance your personal relationships, which would really make you happy. If you are single, you feel an ever-growing wish to get into a reliable relationship. You are balanced and easily command your emotions. You can slightly undergo compromises, sign negotiations, and try to make peace.

Transiting Venus in harmonic aspect to Sun

Love, sociability, warm relationships, a wave of good mood and pleasant times. This period is marked by comfort and pleasure. You may get and give gifts, and go out more often.

Venus trine Sun

12 Oct 2023 08:53 - 29 Oct 2023 20:47

Love is spread everywhere and your private relations are in balance and harmony. You are very engaging for other folks. Social communication is on the top level too. You are greatly interested in beautiful things and will like to buy some of them. It's time to change your style. Any of your decisions concerning appearance will be excellent. Right now, you may receive unexpected presents or fine income.

You are reserved and judge everything perfectly. Your inner balance is normal, which will allow you to take dependable steps for enhancement of relations and financial status.

Transiting Venus in adverse aspect to Venus

You need to be more aware of your surroundings and check all information twice during this period.

Venus square Venus

23 Oct 2023 08:46 - 02 Nov 2023 02:40

This transit is relatively weak. Nevertheless, there may be some disharmony in your relationships. Somebody might give more than someone else. There will appear to be great differences in all kinds of self-expression, which may lead you to a fine combination of different characters or problems. You will have to give out much strength. There will be great sensuality between you and your partner, or among other close people. You may also feel unease and insecurity concerning your financial and romantic perspectives. It's not a time to reveal all of your social capabilities. Keep it for better times.

Transiting Venus in harmonic aspect to Mercury

A time full of joy and positive communication. Everything around you seems to be easy and understandable. Your troubles have gone away, and you experience one of the best times of your life.

Venus trine Mercury

17 Oct 2023 05:57 - 27 Oct 2023 09:59

Grace and great tact.

Poesy and romanticism are the major themes of this day. You will express yourself anew. You will slightly solve all misunderstandings. Mentality wouldn't be normal. It's a successful period for business. You will be strongly valued by younger folks. You can sign very essential negotiation very slightly and on the best terms. Expect many compliments on this day. Pay more attention to your work. There may occur perspective projects.

Compatibility, Synastry

Jane Doe, 01 Jan 1981 20:45:00 (38.8823 North, 77.1711 West)

and

John Dow, 12 Dec 1980 11:55:00 (44.9778 North, 93.2650 West)

Venus

Sun conjunct Venus

Conjunction shows that you are the best friend to your loved one. You match in interests and communication. You like the same stuff and always have a topic to talk about. You are lucky to share everything with your partner. You are tied closely in most of areas in your life. This match promises to end in marriage.

Moon

Moon conjunct Uranus

The relationships provided by this aspect are very specific and interesting, but not necessarily durable. A lot depends on the other features of your partner. If the positive characteristics prevail, it balances this conjunction. The Moon's changeable nature will be a reason of many conflicts. You both tend to live without responsibilities, so living without marriage is suitable for you. In this couple, Uranus is like an energy battery, and provides a lot of excitement in the relationships, while the Moon cares and gives everything that is needed for a partner.

Moon conjunct Venus

The Moon in conjunction with Venus is a very durable and happy combination. It is made for romance and love. There are no problems in dividing household duties. You love and respect each other, having a sense of tact and providing support at any time. This comparative aspect provides deep feelings and reciprocity. Your relationships are very harmonious no matter if it is friendship, working, or romantic.

Mercury

Mercury square Jupiter

Jupiter in such relationships tends to dominate. Striving to guide the partner makes the Jupiter person think about Mercury as a child. It causes misunderstanding and problems, as Mercury wants to have private space and to be taken seriously. You find it hard to make choices together and often don't have a shared opinion about something.

Mercury conjunct Mars

The success of such a connection is influenced by the rest of the information in the chart. If all of the other aspects are favorable, this one means that partners motivate each other mentally and orient their efforts on the right direction. If the aspects show something is wrong, this combination can provoke instant conflicts. Mars, by nature, is a dominating and demanding person, while Mercury can't keep silent if something is not the way he or she likes.

Mercury square Saturn

Saturn, under the influence of this aspect, can become too restrained and criticizing. This person can be extremely demanding. Sooner or later, Mercury will oppose such order imposed by Saturn. Your relationships are complicated, and not only romantic relationships are hard under this aspect. In marriage, spouses become estranged from one another quite fast. These relationships require hard work.

Mars

Mars sextile Uranus

This combination is especially creative in the work sphere. You two have so many interesting ideas, because you complete each other. Improving and development are your goals in relationships. You assist each other and work to improve your partner.

Sun

Here will be described how the position of two particular planets influences the romantic sphere of your life. Only the Sun, Moon, Venus, and Mars participate in determining your romantic life path because they are moving fast enough to have an impact on your life. Other planets don't have a major influence on your love life, so they are not mentioned in this section.

Sun square Jupiter

Sun in combination with Jupiter tends to have extreme manifestations of features common to each partner. Such a relationship often provides everything that crosses the border of normalcy. Both of you are not mature enough to have a family because you foster laziness, procrastination, and ego in each other. A lot of in your relationship is taken for granted, so many disagreements will be present, and such relationships don't promise a prosperous life.

Sun conjunct Mars

This combination is very active and sometimes not in the positive sense. Misunderstanding and conflicts may be often. The reason for conflicts is the ego of each partner. To have balanced relationships, people of Sun and Mars need to respect and listen to each other and be able to cede if needed. You can't accept losing, but that is unacceptable in love. These relationships include a passionate sexual aspect, but usually don't end in marriage.

Sun square Saturn

Sun and Saturn here are in a constant fight for the leadership position. Although Saturn makes fewer claims for the leadership position, this partner instantly suffers from Sun's ego. In marriage, square promises a lot of misunderstanding, difficulties, and disappointments in one's partner. The relationship is more work than love and having fun together. You'll be tired of such a situation sooner or later. Also, humdrum will make you unhappy.

The compatibility of the zodiac signs

Capricorn & Sagittarius

Attitude Adjustments

The meeting of these two can be compared with a clash of the titans. They are very different. Still, there's something that can unite them. They can support each other's ambitions or undergo common adventures.

At the very beginning, Sagittarius would act friendly, trying to implement elements of flirting. Capricorn would hold a bit cool and serious. The easygoing character of Sagittarius can melt that seriousness, and soon they'd be enjoying the company in full.

Capricorn prefers traditions and likes well-known places and would ask about your work, family, and something of the kind. This identity won't show his/her inner world quickly. Both may like the idea of "friends with benefits" deal.

Something More

Sagittarius is a sign of love for freedom and commonly escapes obligation, unless they are ready for this. In the meanwhile, Capricorn takes the matter of marriage seriously.

Within time, these two opposites may find mutual interests and understanding. They require patience, and afterwards, they'd be capable to build firm relations with commitment.

Sag is on a continuous move, eager to search and discover something novel. This sign strongly believes in faith. Capricorn is a responsible sign targeted at work.

This pair has great differences. Viewing the indications of Jupiter and Saturn would give a clearer comprehension of the possible future of this couple.

Well Read

Each in this union requires a bright companion with whom it would be interesting to communicate. While dating, they may visit such places as museum, theatre, or some concert.

Due to their powerful intellects, they're capable to understand delicate structures and manifestations of society. They thrive when they have a common goal, which greatly unites them.

Sagittarius prefers learning and understanding this world by taking active part in all happenings of the world. Capricorn doesn't need to go out somewhere to have this or that thing. This sign can draw what or who is needed. Capricorn is commonly an introvert and is a great magnet. Sagittarius is a real extravert. Both create balance with their energies.

Making it Real

Sag travels a lot, as people of this sign learn a lot of new things while visiting different places. For Capricorn, Sag isn't serious and seems to always talk, but never do. Capricorn is ready to give great feedback, but only if his/her partner would be worthy of that. Capricorn can show how to turn energy and talent into nice satisfying things, which inspire us.

Thousand Watt Smiles

These two can share great humor. Even though they joke differently, it is very funny. Capricorn falls into darkness, while Sag reaches out for the sun. At times, this may annoy Capricorn, but sometimes, the brightness of Sagittarius can turn Capricorn towards light.

Capricorn is very devoted in the relationship and heads towards lasting love. This sign is known for its love for traditions, while Sagittarius prefers experiments without obligations and limitations. Sag desires freedom and seeks it, which frustrates his/her partner. Here may begin a mistrust. But when Sag is under control, as if in a cage, this would bring nothing but problems too.

They may find balance and come to harmony by mutual gifts and encouragement.

All-in-All

These two share free forces. Their conversations run interesting. They share great humor and can encourage each other during a crisis. They possess great ambitions, but there's too great difference in their natures. Here, optimism meets pessimism and other opposite feelings and ways of acting.